Re: 2007 RICA/RTG Fall Forum

How is your company “Mapping the Way to a Successful Future?” By attending what is shaping up to be the telecommunications industry event of the year!

RICA and RTG, independently known for their dedication to and success in bringing their members innovative and informative events, have joined forces to produce the 2007 RICA/RTG Fall Forum.

This can't-miss event promises an exciting slate of programming and an incredible value for attendees. With one registration fee, members can gain access to three full days of industry speakers, networking opportunities, and thought-provoking roundtable discussions, as well as topical tracks focusing on CATV, wireless, and competitive phone offerings. This wide array of educational opportunities helps members walk away with their company's roadmap to future success well in hand.

The Fall Forum promises to be an excellent opportunity for rural telecommunications services providers to discuss competitive tactics and successes with their peers from around the country. Company reps who attend the 2007 RICA/RTG Fall Forum gain access to real-world, applicable, proven competitive strategies for implementation in and adaptation to their unique market environment. The variety and quality of scheduled programming make attendance at the Forum perfect for all company decision makers and department heads, from marketing to technical, customer service to CEOs.

Save the date, mark your calendars, make your reservations and plan to attend one of the most valuable industry events of the year – the 2007 RICA/RTG Fall Forum! For more information on membership, Fall Forum agenda details, or participant registration, visit us at www.ricalliance.org or www.ruraltelecomgroup.org, or call 866-472-1209 (RICA) or (202) 551-0025 (RTG). Whether you fly, drive, walk, swim, or sail, make sure your compass points to the 2007 RICA/RTG Fall Forum!
